Personalized Meal Plan

by Diabetes and Endocrinology Centre

Consolidated Meal Plan

Meal Plan

Day	Breakfast	Lunch	Dinner	Snacks
Monday	Tofu jook (savory Chinese rice porridge with crispy garlic and scallions)	Vegetarian mapo tofu with steamed broccoli	Chinese eggplant stir-fry with tofu and shiitake (gluten-free soy sauce)	Crispy air-fried edamame with chili flakes
Tuesday	Korean soybean sprout soup with tofu and vegetables	Filipino ginisang munggo (mung bean stew with spinach and chili oil)	Korean spicy braised tofu (dubu-jorim) with sautéed bok choy	Filipino lumpiang sariwa (fresh veggie spring rolls, gluten-free wrapper)
Wednesday
Thursday
Friday
Saturday
Sunday

Recipes

Low-Carb Tofu Jook (Savory Chinese Rice Porridge with Crispy Garlic & Scallions)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 135 kcal
Protein: 13g
Carbs: 10g
Fat: 6g

Ingredients

• 1/2 cup cauliflower rice (fresh or frozen)
• 3/4 cup extra-firm tofu, pressed and cubed (about 120g)
• 2 tbsp shelled edamame (optional, for extra protein)
• 4 cups low-sodium, MSG-free vegetable broth (homemade or store-bought; aim for <140mg sodium per cup)
• 2 cloves garlic, finely minced
• 2 scallions, thinly sliced (white and green parts separated)
• 1/2 inch piece fresh ginger, peeled and thinly sliced
• 1 tsp toasted sesame oil
• 1/4 tsp white pepper
• 1/4 tsp sodium-free umami seasoning (e.g., mushroom powder; optional)
• 1/2 tsp low-sodium tamari or coconut aminos (gluten-free, optional; omit for stricter sodium control)
• Nonstick spray or 1/4 tsp olive oil (for air frying tofu)
• Fresh cilantro or microgreens, for garnish (optional)
• Lime wedges, for serving (optional)

Instructions

1. Prepare tofu: Press tofu for at least 10 minutes to remove excess water. Cut into 1/2-inch cubes. Toss with a small amount of nonstick spray or 1/4 tsp olive oil, half of the white part of the scallion, and a pinch of white pepper.

2. Air fry tofu: Place tofu cubes in a single layer in the air fryer basket. Air fry at 375°F (190°C) for 10–12 minutes, shaking halfway, until golden and crisp. Set aside.
3. Prepare crispy garlic: While tofu cooks, heat sesame oil in a small nonstick pan (or use the air fryer with a small heatproof dish). Add minced garlic and remaining scallion white. Sauté on low heat until golden and crisp, about 2–3 minutes. Remove from heat immediately to prevent burning. Set aside.
4. Instant Pot Jook: Add cauliflower rice, ginger, edamame, and vegetable broth to the Instant Pot. Stir in white pepper and umami seasoning. Seal and cook on 'Porridge' or 'Manual' high pressure for 3 minutes. Allow natural release for at least 10 minutes, then quick release any remaining pressure.
5. Finishing touches: Open Instant Pot. Discard ginger slices if desired. Stir in half of the scallion greens and low-sodium tamari or coconut aminos (if using). Taste and adjust seasoning (avoid adding salt for hypertension).
6. To serve: Ladle jook into bowls. Top each bowl with crispy tofu cubes, garlic-scallion mixture, and remaining scallion greens. Garnish with cilantro or microgreens and a squeeze of lime if desired. Serve hot.

Korean Soybean Sprout Soup with Tofu and Vegetables (Vegetarian, Low-Sodium, Low-Carb)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 120 kcal
Protein: 10g
Carbs: 10g
Fat: 4g

Ingredients

• 200g (about 2 cups) fresh soybean sprouts, rinsed and trimmed
• 150g (about 1/2 block) firm tofu, cubed
• 1 small zucchini (about 100g), julienned
• 1 small carrot (about 50g), julienned
• 4 fresh shiitake mushrooms, sliced
• 1/2 medium onion, thinly sliced
• 2 green onions, chopped
• 2 garlic cloves, minced
• 1 tablespoon low-sodium tamari (gluten-free soy sauce alternative)

• 1/2 teaspoon toasted sesame oil
• 4 cups water
• 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
• 1/2 teaspoon Korean chili flakes (gochugaru, optional for mild heat)
• 1/4 cup mung bean vermicelli noodles, soaked and cut into short lengths (optional, for added texture and fiber; omit for stricter low-carb needs)
• Fresh cilantro or Korean perilla (kkaennip) leaves for garnish (optional)

Instructions

1. 1. Prepare all vegetables as listed. If using mung bean noodles, soak them in warm water for 10 minutes, then drain and cut into short pieces.
2. 2. In the Instant Pot (or a soup pot on the stove), add 4 cups water, soybean sprouts, onion, carrot, zucchini, shiitake mushrooms, and minced garlic.
3. 3. Close the Instant Pot lid and set to 'Sauté' mode (or bring to a gentle boil on the stove). Cook for 5-7 minutes until the vegetables begin to soften.
4. 4. Add the cubed tofu, low-sodium tamari, black pepper, and (if using) gochugaru. Stir gently to avoid breaking the tofu.
5. 5. If using mung bean noodles, add them now. Continue to simmer for another 2-3 minutes until the noodles (if used) are soft and the vegetables are tender-crisp.
6. 6. Turn off the heat. Stir in the sesame oil and green onions.
7. 7. Taste and adjust seasoning as needed, adding more pepper or a small dash of tamari if desired (keeping sodium low).
8. 8. Ladle into bowls and garnish with fresh cilantro or perilla leaves if available.
9. 9. Serve hot as a main dish or as part of a Korean-style meal.

Vegetarian Mapo Tofu with Steamed Broccoli (Low Sodium, Low Carb, Gluten-Free, East Asian Style)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 220 kcal
Protein: 16g
Carbs: 13g
Fat: 11g

Ingredients

• 350g (12 oz) firm or extra-firm tofu, cut into 1-inch cubes
• 1 tablespoon avocado oil or canola oil (for high heat)
• 2 cloves garlic, minced
• 1 tablespoon fresh ginger, minced
• 1/2 cup shiitake mushrooms, finely diced
• 1/4 cup scallions, chopped (separate white and green parts)
• 1 tablespoon low-sodium gluten-free tamari or coconut aminos
• 1 tablespoon doubanjiang (fermented broad bean paste, use a low sodium or no-salt-added version if available, or substitute with low-sodium Korean gochujang for similar flavor)
• 1 tablespoon chili garlic sauce (look for a low sodium version, or use 1 teaspoon chili flakes if sodium is a concern)
• 1/2 cup low-sodium vegetable broth
• 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil
• 1 tablespoon arrowroot starch (or cornstarch), mixed with 2 tablespoons water
• 200g (7 oz) broccoli florets
• 1/2 teaspoon Sichuan peppercorns, ground (optional, for authentic flavor and mild numbing heat)
• Fresh cilantro, chopped (optional, for garnish)

Instructions

1. 1. Prepare tofu: Drain and pat dry the tofu. Cut into 1-inch cubes. Set aside.
2. 2. Prep broccoli: Place broccoli florets in a microwave-safe container. Add 1 tablespoon water, cover, and microwave on high for 2-3 minutes until just tender-crisp. Alternatively, steam in an Instant Pot for 0 minutes (manual release). Set aside.
3. 3. Make mapo tofu: Heat avocado oil in a nonstick skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add minced garlic, ginger, and the white parts of scallions. Stir-fry for 1 minute until fragrant.
4. 4. Add diced shiitake mushrooms and cook for 2-3 minutes until softened.
5. 5. Add doubanjiang (or gochujang), chili garlic sauce (or chili flakes), and stir well for 1-2 minutes until fragrant. Reduce heat to medium.
6. 6. Gently add tofu cubes and stir to coat in the sauce. Pour in the low-sodium vegetable broth and tamari. Simmer for 5 minutes, allowing the tofu to absorb flavors.
7. 7. Stir in the arrowroot (or cornstarch) slurry and simmer for 1-2 minutes until the sauce thickens.
8. 8. Turn off the heat. Drizzle with toasted sesame oil and sprinkle with ground Sichuan peppercorns (if using).
9. 9. Serve the mapo tofu hot, garnished with green parts of scallions and cilantro if desired, alongside the steamed broccoli.

Low-Sodium Filipino Ginisang Munggo (Mung Bean Stew with Spinach & Chili Oil) – Vegetarian, Diabetes-Friendly

Nutritional Information

Calories: 205 kcal
Protein: 13g
Carbs: 25g
Fat: 6g

Ingredients

• 1 cup dry mung beans (munggo)
• 5 cups water
• 1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil (or avocado oil)
• 1 medium yellow onion, finely chopped
• 4 cloves garlic, minced
• 1-inch piece ginger, peeled and minced
• 1 medium tomato, diced
• 1 medium carrot, diced (optional, for added fiber and nutrients)
• 1/2 cup firm tofu, cubed (pressed and drained)
• 4 cups baby spinach (or malunggay leaves, if available, washed)
• 2 tablespoons low-sodium tamari (gluten-free soy sauce alternative)
• 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
• 1/4 teaspoon turmeric powder (optional, for anti-inflammatory benefit)
• 1 tablespoon homemade chili oil (see Tip below)
• 1 tablespoon sliced green onions (for garnish)
• 1 small red chili, sliced (optional, for garnish and extra heat)
• Lime or calamansi wedges (optional, for serving)

Instructions

1. Rinse mung beans well and drain. In the Instant Pot, combine mung beans and 5 cups water. Cook on high pressure for 10 minutes, then allow natural release for 10 minutes before quick-releasing any remaining pressure. (Alternatively, simmer in a pot on the stovetop for 40-50 minutes until tender.)

2. While mung beans cook, prepare the aromatics: Using the sauté function on the Instant Pot (or a pan on the stove), heat olive oil. Add onion, garlic, and ginger. Sauté for 3-4 minutes until fragrant and onions are translucent.
3. Add diced tomato and carrot (if using). Cook for 3-4 minutes until softened.
4. Stir in cubed tofu and sauté for 2-3 minutes to lightly brown.
5. Add cooked mung beans (with their cooking liquid) to the pot with the sautéed aromatics and tofu. Stir well.
6. Add low-sodium tamari, black pepper, and turmeric powder (if using). Simmer for 5-10 minutes to meld flavors. If stew is too thick, add water 1/4 cup at a time to reach desired consistency.
7. A few minutes before serving, stir in the spinach and let wilt. Turn off heat.
8. Ladle stew into bowls. Drizzle each serving with 1-2 teaspoons homemade chili oil. Garnish with green onions and red chili slices. Serve with lime or calamansi wedges if desired.

Chinese Eggplant Stir-Fry with Tofu and Shiitake (Gluten-Free, Low Sodium, Vegetarian)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 205 kcal
Protein: 13g
Carbs: 18g
Fat: 10g

Ingredients

• Chinese/Japanese eggplant – 2 medium (about 400g), cut into bite-sized pieces
• Firm tofu – 300g, drained and cut into 1-inch cubes
• Fresh shiitake mushrooms – 120g (about 1 cup), stems removed, caps sliced
• Red bell pepper – 1 small (about 80g), sliced (optional for color and nutrients)
• Green onions – 2 stalks, sliced (separate white and green parts)
• Garlic – 2 cloves, minced
• Fresh ginger – 1 tablespoon, minced
• Avocado oil (or canola oil) – 1 tablespoon
• Gluten-free low sodium tamari or soy sauce – 2 tablespoons
• Rice vinegar (unseasoned) – 1 tablespoon

• Toasted sesame oil – 1 teaspoon
• Monk fruit or stevia sweetener – 1/2 teaspoon (optional, for balance; avoid sugar/honey)
• Cornstarch – 1 teaspoon, mixed with 2 teaspoons water (slurry, optional for thickening)
• Fresh ground black pepper – 1/4 teaspoon
• Water – 3 tablespoons
• Cilantro or fresh basil – 1 tablespoon, chopped (garnish, optional)

Instructions

1. 1. Prepare all ingredients: Cut eggplant, tofu, mushrooms, and bell pepper. Slice green onions, keeping green and white separate. Mince garlic and ginger.
2. 2. Press tofu (if possible) for 10-15 minutes to remove excess water for better texture.
3. 3. (Air Fryer Option for tofu): Toss tofu cubes lightly with 1/2 teaspoon oil and air fry at 375°F for 10-12 minutes, shaking halfway, until golden and slightly crisp. (Alternatively, pan-sear in a nonstick skillet over medium heat until golden on all sides.) Set aside.
4. 4. Heat avocado oil in a large nonstick skillet or wok over medium-high heat. Add white parts of green onion, garlic, and ginger. Stir-fry for 30 seconds until fragrant.
5. 5. Add eggplant and stir-fry for 2-3 minutes. Add bell pepper and mushrooms. Stir-fry for another 3-4 minutes, adding 2-3 tablespoons water and covering briefly to steam if eggplant is too dry.
6. 6. Once vegetables are just tender, add cooked tofu.
7. 7. In a small bowl, whisk together gluten-free low sodium tamari, rice vinegar, sesame oil, sweetener (if using), black pepper, and cornstarch slurry.
8. 8. Pour sauce over the stir-fry. Toss gently to coat all ingredients. Cook for 1-2 minutes until sauce thickens slightly.
9. 9. Remove from heat. Sprinkle green onions and optional cilantro/basil on top before serving.
10. 10. Serve hot, as is, or with a small portion of quinoa or cauliflower rice if desired (not included in nutrition info).

Korean Spicy Braised Tofu (Dubu-Jorim) with Sautéed Bok Choy – Low Sodium, Low Carb, Vegetarian

Nutritional Information

Calories: 220 kcal
Protein: 17g
Carbs: 8g

Fat: 13g

Ingredients

• Extra-firm tofu, 400g (drained and pressed)
• Baby bok choy, 300g (about 3 small heads), cut in halves or quarters
• Avocado oil or canola oil, 1 tablespoon (divided: 2 tsp for tofu, 1 tsp for bok choy)
• Low sodium gluten-free tamari, 1.5 tablespoons
• Water, 3 tablespoons
• Gochugaru (Korean red pepper flakes), 1 teaspoon (adjust to taste)
• Garlic, 3 cloves, minced
• Scallion, 2 stalks, finely sliced (white and green parts separated)
• Sesame oil, 1 teaspoon
• Toasted sesame seeds, 1 teaspoon
• Rice vinegar, 1 teaspoon
• Erythritol or monk fruit sweetener, 1/2 teaspoon (optional, for balance)
• Freshly ground black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon

Instructions

1. 1. Prepare tofu: Cut tofu into 1.5 cm thick rectangles. Pat dry with paper towels.
2. 2. Heat 2 teaspoons avocado oil in a large nonstick skillet over medium heat. Arrange tofu slices in a single layer. Cook 3-4 minutes per side, until golden brown. Remove and set aside.
3. 3. In a small bowl, mix together: low sodium tamari, water, gochugaru, minced garlic, white parts of scallion, rice vinegar, erythritol/monk fruit (if using), and black pepper.
4. 4. Return tofu to pan (use the same pan for flavor). Pour the sauce evenly over tofu. Simmer on low heat, spooning sauce over tofu, for 5-7 minutes until sauce is reduced and absorbed. Turn once for even flavor.
5. 5. Drizzle sesame oil over tofu and sprinkle green scallion parts and sesame seeds. Remove from pan.
6. 6. Wipe skillet and add 1 teaspoon oil. Add bok choy cut sides down, cook 1-2 minutes until lightly browned. Add 2 tablespoons water, cover, and steam 2 more minutes until tender but crisp. Remove lid and let excess water evaporate.
7. 7. Plate tofu and bok choy together. Serve warm.

Crispy Air-Fried Edamame with Korean Chili Flakes (Vegetarian, Low Sodium, Low Sugar)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 145 kcal
Protein: 12g
Carbs: 10g
Fat: 6g

Ingredients

• 2 cups frozen shelled edamame (unsalted, thawed)
• 1 tsp toasted sesame oil (cold-pressed if available)
• 1/2 tsp Korean gochugaru (Korean red chili flakes; adjust to taste)
• 1/2 tsp garlic powder (no salt added)
• 1/2 tsp onion powder (no salt added)
• 1/4 tsp freshly ground black pepper
• 1/4 tsp low-sodium soy sauce (gluten-free tamari or coconut aminos, optional for flavor; can omit for ultra-low sodium)
• 1 tsp toasted sesame seeds (optional garnish)
• 1 stalk green onion, finely sliced (optional garnish)

Instructions

1. If using frozen edamame, thaw completely and pat dry with a clean towel to minimize moisture for extra crispiness.
2. In a large mixing bowl, combine edamame, sesame oil, gochugaru, garlic powder, onion powder, and black pepper. Toss thoroughly to coat. If using, drizzle in the low-sodium soy sauce or tamari and toss again (omit for strict sodium control).
3. Preheat the air fryer to 390°F (200°C) for 2-3 minutes.
4. Spread the seasoned edamame in a single layer in the air fryer basket.
5. Air fry for 10-12 minutes, shaking the basket halfway through. Edamame should be golden and crispy but not burnt.
6. Transfer to a serving bowl. Sprinkle with sesame seeds and green onion if desired. Serve warm as a high-protein snack or side.

Low-Carb Vegetarian Filipino Lumpiang Sariwa (Fresh Spring Rolls)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 120 kcal
Protein: 8g
Carbs: 10g
Fat: 7g

Ingredients

• 8 large romaine lettuce leaves (for wrappers)
• 1 cup firm tofu, pressed and cut into thin strips
• 1 cup jicama, peeled and julienned
• 1 cup carrots, peeled and julienned
• 1 cup green beans, ends trimmed and cut into matchsticks
• 1 cup mung bean sprouts, rinsed and drained
• 2 tablespoons avocado oil (or canola oil)
• 2 cloves garlic, minced
• 1 small onion, finely chopped
• 1/4 cup unsalted roasted peanuts, finely chopped (for garnish)
• Fresh cilantro leaves (optional, for garnish)
• 1 tablespoon low-sodium tamari (gluten-free soy sauce alternative)
• 1 tablespoon coconut aminos
• 1 tablespoon rice vinegar (no added sugar, unseasoned)
• 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
• 1 teaspoon erythritol or monk fruit sweetener (optional, for sauce)
• 1/2 cup water (for sauce)

Instructions

1. 1. Prepare all vegetables: Wash and julienne jicama, carrots, and green beans. Rinse and drain mung bean sprouts. Cut tofu into thin strips.
2. 2. Heat 1 tablespoon avocado oil in a large nonstick skillet or Instant Pot set to 'Sauté' mode. Add tofu strips and cook for 3-5 minutes until lightly golden. Remove and set aside.
3. 3. In the same skillet, add another 1 tablespoon avocado oil. Sauté onion and garlic for 1-2 minutes until fragrant.
4. 4. Add carrots and green beans. Stir-fry for 2-3 minutes.
5. 5. Add jicama and stir-fry for another 2 minutes. Add bean sprouts last and toss for 30 seconds. Season with black pepper and half of the low-sodium tamari. Remove from heat to avoid overcooking.

6. 6. Lay out each lettuce leaf on a clean surface. Place a portion of cooked vegetables and tofu in the center of each leaf. Roll tightly, tucking in the sides to form a neat roll.
7. 7. For the sauce: In a small saucepan or microwave-safe bowl, combine water, coconut aminos, remaining tamari, rice vinegar, and erythritol or monk fruit sweetener. Heat until just simmering, whisking to dissolve the sweetener. Let cool.
8. 8. To serve: Plate each roll seam-side down, drizzle with cooled sauce, and sprinkle with chopped peanuts and cilantro (if using).

Gluten-Free, Low-Carb Asian Veggie Wrapper (No Egg, High Protein)

Nutritional Information

Calories: 68 kcal
Protein: 5 g
Carbs: 7 g
Fat: 2 g

Ingredients

• ½ cup chickpea flour (also called besan or garbanzo bean flour)
• ¼ cup silken tofu, well-drained and blended
• 2 tablespoons pea protein isolate powder (unflavored)
• 1 tablespoon ground golden flaxseed
• ½ cup water, plus more as needed
• 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil (optional, for flavor)
• ¼ teaspoon low-sodium gluten-free soy sauce or coconut aminos
• ¼ teaspoon baking powder (aluminum-free, gluten-free)
• Nonstick spray (canola or avocado oil spray, as needed for air fryer or pan)

Instructions

1. In a blender, combine the silken tofu and water. Blend until completely smooth.
2. In a mixing bowl, whisk together chickpea flour, pea protein powder, ground flaxseed, and baking powder.
3. Pour the tofu-water mixture into the dry ingredients. Add sesame oil (if using) and low-sodium soy sauce or coconut aminos.

4. Whisk well to form a smooth, pourable batter. If the batter is too thick, add 1–2 tablespoons water as needed; it should have the consistency of crepe batter.
5. Let the batter sit for 5 minutes to allow the flaxseed to hydrate, which helps binding.
6. Preheat a nonstick skillet or use the air fryer with a flat tray accessory. Lightly spray with nonstick spray.
7. For skillet: Pour about 3 tablespoons of batter onto the preheated pan and swirl quickly to form a thin circle (about 5–6 inches diameter). Cook over medium-low heat until the edges begin to lift and the surface looks set (about 2–3 minutes), then gently flip and cook another 1–2 minutes, until golden and cooked through.
8. For air fryer: Line the tray with parchment, spray lightly. Pour batter into a 5–6 inch circle, spread thinly. Air fry at 320°F (160°C) for 4–5 minutes or until set. Flip and air fry another 2–3 minutes.
9. Transfer wrappers to a plate and cover with a clean towel to keep them pliable. Repeat with remaining batter.
10. Use wrappers immediately for dumplings, spring rolls, or store in an airtight container (up to 2 days, refrigerate and reheat briefly to soften).

Shopping List

Produce

- Cauliflower (whole head) - 1 head (≈1.5 lb)
- Soybean sprouts - 454 g (1 lb) bag
- Baby spinach - 454 g (1 lb) bag
- Mung bean sprouts - 454 g (1 lb) bag
- Jicama - 1 lb
- Zucchini - 1 lb
- Carrots - 2 lb
- Green beans - 1 lb
- Broccoli florets - 454 g (1 lb) bag
- Baby bok choy - 454 g (1 lb) bag
- Chinese or Japanese eggplant - 2 pieces (≈1.5 lb)
- Red bell pepper - 1 piece
- Shiitake mushrooms (fresh) - 1 lb
- Yellow onion - 2 lb
- Green onions / scallions - 2 bunches
- Garlic bulbs - 3 bulbs
- Ginger root - 0.5 lb
- Tomato - 1 lb
- Romaine lettuce - 1 head
- Lime - 3 pieces
- Red chili pepper - 2 pieces
- Fresh cilantro - 1 bunch
- Korean perilla leaves - 1 bunch
- Fresh basil - 1 bunch

Refrigerated Plant Protein

• Tofu (firm or extra-firm) - 2 kg
• Silken tofu - 300 g

Frozen Produce

• Frozen shelled edamame - 1 kg bag

Dry Protein Powder

• Pea protein isolate powder (unflavored) - 100 g

Dry Pantry

• Chickpea flour (besan, garbanzo bean flour) - 500 g
• Ground golden flaxseed - 100 g
• Dry mung beans - 500 g
• Mung bean vermicelli noodles - 100 g
• Unsalted roasted peanuts - 100 g
• Arrowroot starch or cornstarch - 100 g
• Cornstarch - 100 g
• Baking powder (aluminum-free, gluten-free) - 1 small tin (≈100 g)
• Erythritol or monk fruit sweetener - 100 g
• Stevia sweetener - 1 small pack
• Monk fruit sweetener - 1 small pack

Canned & Boxed Goods

• Vegetable broth (low-sodium, MSG-free) - 2 liters

Miscellaneous

• Water - Use tap as needed

Oils & Vinegars

• Avocado oil or canola oil - 500 ml bottle
• Extra-virgin olive oil - 250 ml bottle
• Toasted sesame oil - 250 ml bottle
• Rice vinegar (unseasoned, no sugar) - 250 ml bottle
• Nonstick spray (canola or avocado oil) - 1 can

Asian Sauces & Condiments

• Low-sodium gluten-free tamari - 250 ml bottle
• Coconut aminos - 250 ml bottle
• Doubanjiang (low sodium, if available) or gochujang - 1 small jar (≈100 g)
• Chili garlic sauce (low sodium if possible) - 1 small jar (≈100 g)

Asian Spices

• Korean gochugaru (red chili flakes) - 100 g
• Sichuan peppercorns (optional) - 1 small jar (≈30 g)

• Sodium-free umami seasoning (e.g., mushroom powder, optional) - 1 small jar (≈50 g)

Spices

• White pepper - 1 small jar (≈50 g)
• Black pepper (whole or ground) - 1 small jar (≈50 g)
• Garlic powder (no salt) - 1 small jar (≈50 g)
• Onion powder (no salt) - 1 small jar (≈50 g)
• Turmeric powder - 1 small jar (≈50 g)

Spices & Seeds

• Toasted sesame seeds - 100 g